Judge Mahoney Named in State 'Gift Jobs' Probe

2 Arrests Ordered in Dolan Case

Arrest of two men—one described as a "secretary" and the other "a habitue of a hotel in the vicinity of Beacon Hill"—was ordered today by Assistant District Attorney Frederick T. Doyle in connection with the case of former City Treasurer Edmund L. Dolan and others.

At the same time Doyle filed in Suffolk Superior Court the names of 10 jurors, stating they, "according to the statement of the respondent, were allegedly influenced by contact with the defendant Dinsmore or his agents."

ON COURT'S ORDER

The prosecutor's action was in conforming with a court order to furnish "particulars" regarding jury-fixing charges as demanded by counsel for former Representative Robert Dinsmore.

Dinsmore, Dolan, J. Walter Quinn, Harold Simpson and three unnamed "John Does" were listed

Man Dies Raising Hand for U. S. Oath

His hand raised for the naturalization oath, 64-year-old Frabazio Cataldo, of Salem street, North End, dropped dead today in front of Examiner Adam Gengler in the Federal building.

Rapped by Ex-Mate—Mrs. Jean Vose Corbin (above) today faced the denunciation of her former husband, Gail Vose, Jr., wealthy stockbroker, who asked: "What kind of mother is this who blasts the future of her child by declaring it illegitimate?" The woman and Vose, Jr., are fighting for the child's custody. (Story on Page 3.)

Utility Shares Lead Quiet Rally

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—Power and light company stocks took the lead in a quiet and selective rally in today's market.

Abetted by a number of rails and specialties, favorites pushed up fractions to $1 a share or so at the best.

Cronin Wins Air Race With Stork

Winging south under the night sky, Joe Cronin, Red Sox manager, won a race to Washington with the stork early today.

Cronin, accompanied by his millionaire boss, Tom Yawkey, owner of the Sox, flew to the capital to be with his wife, whose baby was expected today.

Hurley, 2 Backers Linked by Witness

John V. Mahoney, former secretary to Governor Hurley and whom the governor appointed a judge of the probate court, today was named in testimony before the joint legislative committee investigating charges of political patronage in the state Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Also named was John Lacey Delaney, Hurley leader in Cambridge and former Cambridge school committeeman, now a jobholder in the closed banks division of the state banking department.

M. Joseph McCartin, executive secretary of the unemployment commission from September, 1935, to April, 1937, testified—

1. One week before Governor Hurley's inauguration, Delaney come to the Unemployment Compensation Commission's offices as "a representative of the incoming governor," and inquired into the possibilities of employing "individuals whom he would want given consideration."

CALLED BY MAHONEY

2. One week after Governor Hurley's inauguration, McCartin was called to the Governor's office by Mahoney, then still the Governor's secretary, and was told there by Mahoney that "tem-

War Hawks Roar Into Action

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—The army decided today that its warplanes could be concentrated in any area in the country where an invasion threatened within 48 hours after an alarm was sounded.

Almost 150 winged weapons were ready for the most realistic war games in the history of the air corps.

True, it required six days to transport 3000 officers and enlisted men to a score of strategically placed airdromes in the northeast, but officers explained that neither men nor machines had been taxed to capacity.

The movement into the simulated theater of war, where a combination of European and Asiatic powers—in theory—is about to attempt an invasion of the industrial East, was leisurely.

Details of the defensive problem at "zero hour" May 12 are a secret of the high command of the general headquarters air force.

At nearby Mitchel Field, where Maj.-Gen. Frank M. Andrews, chief of the G. H. Q., will direct the games, the planes, pursuits, attacks and bombers—rest on the lip of the airdrome.

SQUADRON OF DEADLY PURSUIT PLANES THUNDERS ALONG IN TUNEUP FOR NORTHEAST WAR GAMES NEXT WEEK

Duce Shows Hitler War's Grim Threat

ROME, May 6 (AP)—The next European war—if it comes—will be largely a struggle with chemicals, flames and artillery if Premier Mussolini's lineup of armed forces today in honor of Reichsfuehrer Hitler was an indication.

Also, it will be the "totalitarian war" of which the late master strategist, General Erich Ludendorff, wrote, meaning that women and children would be drafted into service quite as much as men.

Mussolini showed his guest a whole "chemical regiment" that sent a shudder through the mass of spectators. The soldiers in their gas masks looked like beings from another planet.

FIXED TO FIGHT GERMS

Among their equipment were tanks and tubes and compressed air containers. There was, however, reassurance for Italians in equipment for fighting fire and disease germs.

A further feature of the impressive two-hour parade was the prominence of artillery, from machine guns and anti-aircraft pieces to heavy cannon. Il Duce seemed determined to show his German guests he was not lacking in gruesome implements of war.

Besides Hitler and his entourage of high Nazis, Mussolini's guests included two former kings, Alfonso of Spain and Amanullah of Afghanistan.

BABES IN ARMS

How seriously Mussolini is thinking of future war as "totalitarian" may be judged by the fact that his review included not only regular army units, but also small boys, girls in black uniforms, teenage youngsters on horseback, military units of university students and various Fascist formations, including the colonial Fascist police.

Nor did he hesitate to incorporate spade-carrying labor camp conscripts in the parade.

An interesting phase was the jaunty march-past of Alpine troops with their rucksacks and skis. Among them were many Teutons from South Tyrol.

When the Alpini passed Hitler looked on pensively, while Mussolini, who usually explained each formation in his capable German, lapsed into silence.

Both relaxed into smiles soon afterward as the picturesque Bersaglieri trooped by on the run, their band playing.

Woodring's 'War Talk' Irks Italy

ROME, May 6 (AP)—Virginio Gayda, Fascist editorial spokesman, declared today that comments such as those in Washington yesterday by Secretary of War Woodring on aggression by dictator nations "could not long continue without provoking most fateful and necessary reactions."

In an editorial in Il Giornale d'Italia Gayda said:

"The Secretary of War of the United States will have difficulty in identifying the Ethiopian war as 'pressure on a democratic n

". . . Last proof, his statements wou in deliberately hostile and provocative to Italy.

"Woodring in substance sanctions with his declarations the activities of bloc politics, the theory of preventive war against the authoritarian regime, and ranks himself among the instigators of that policy of international confusion which could not long continue without provoking most fateful and necessary reactions."

Adolph to Benito

Bug's-Eye View of How They "Split Europe"—Even Britain

Arthur "Bugs" Baer, the famous humorist, herewith gives a bug's-eye view of the momentous conversations going on in Italy between Mussolini and Hitler.

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Copyright, 1938, by International News Service

NEW YORK, May 6—We don't know where Europe's interlocking dictatorate is going but it's almost there. Benito and Adolph have reached the end of the track and are now swinging on vines.

It's the squeaky axis that gets the grease. And no matter where the show starts the balcony will be reserved for the dictators. The two boys are showing startling resemblance to that famous kid in the three-cornered hat—Napoleon.

Both are suffering from split personalities. They are going to split everything two ways like grape fruit for breakfast. In their long talk in Rome we guess Benito managed to get some nods in sideways:

ADOLPH: If I put the bite on Czechoslovakia what will you do?

BENITO: Well, since I bit Abyssinia I've had to see my dentist twice a year. I will be neutral subject to change without notice. But what will England do?

ADOLPH: England did nothing when I grabbed the Rhine. England laid an egg when I grabbed Austria and England will maintain its average if I put the slug on Czechoslovakia. I'll let you have Spain.

BENITO: That's selling me a bear in a hollow tree. All I've got to do is go in and get it.

ADOLPH: How about the Ukraine? You need wheat, don't you?

BENITO: What will the Russians be doing?

ADOLPH: Three more treason trials and there won't be enough Russians left to catch a sturgeon. If a Russian is clean shaven he is disguised and if he is wearing whiskers he is in ambush. A Russian counts his money in front of a mirror because he don't even trust himself. Bah, what people, what food and what tobacco! Give a Russian enough rope and he will smoke it.

BENITO: What will England do if we go into the Ukraine? Some day you'll go too far.

ADOLPH: England is an optimist who doesn't care what happens so long as it doesn't happen to her. I know what England will do. It will write a sharp note to the editor of the Times.

BENITO: How about Switzerland?

ADOLPH: That country is built wrong. You get more mileage out of a stepladder than you do out of a gallon. Switzerland will be safe until yodeling makes some sense.

BENITO: What would England do if we each took half of Europe?

ADOLPH: It would do exactly what England has always done. It would circulate intrigue insinuating that I took the biggest half and endeavor to break up a beautiful friendship between us.

BENITO: By the way, Adolph, what would England do if you and I split England up the back?

ADOLPH: Nothing. One half would challenge the other half to a cricket match.

BENITO: That's an idea. I'll see you in London.

ADOLPH: Toodleoo, Benito, old stuff and things! I'll see you at the changing of the guards. We'll change 'em for Germans.

June O'Dea Court Tilt Reaches Final Inning

NEW YORK, May 6—It was a sellout at Judge Aaron J. Levy's supreme court session here today as June O'Dea was due to pitch her final inning against Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, Yankee baseball star, in her battle for legal separation and extra cash allowance.

At the plate all day yesterday, Lefty heard nothing but strikes and fouls called on him and ended up the session with his pretty wife's charges of attempted suicides, beatings, murder threats and general orneriness ringing in his ears.

TELLS SUICIDE HINT

It was expected the former Lexington, Mass., girl who won fame as a Broadway show-girl would toss a few more fast ones today and then take the bench pending Lefty's turn in the pitcher's box Monday.

The hurling ace of the world's champions first entertained the thought of suicide in the tender spring of 1933, according to June.

On another occasion, June declared, they were driving back from the ball park and Lefty thought "it would be a good idea to wreck this car and kill both of us."

"SUCH A BIG BOY"

The actress related details of four battles in which she alleged Lefty gave her black eyes. But, she explained to Judge Levy, "he's such a big boy, you know."

During a trip to Japan, where Lefty appeared with an all-star ball team, he locked her in her stateroom and "drank constantly," June testified.

Another time in St. Petersburg, Fla., June continued, Lefty hurled his grandmother across a bed when she tried to intercede in one of their many arguments.

The only bright spot in Lefty's "hitless" day, was the admiration he received from a score of school children brought to court by Judge Levy's sister to "see the judge in action."

Vose Raps Ex-Wife For 'Slur' at Daughter

"What kind of mother is this woman who blasts the future of her child by declaring it illegitimate?"

Gail Hampton Vose, Jr., wealthy New York stockbroker, whose New England ex-wife recently married the English doorman of her apartment house, hurled that bitter question today as he planned his campaign to have science prove the paternity of little Gail.

"I am furiously angry and shocked," Vose continued, after he had learned that his former wife made a public statement denying he was the father of her year-old daughter.

He said he would call in the nation's foremost scientists to prove Gail was his child in spite of Mrs. Jean Canfield Vose Corbin's statement to the contrary. Mrs. Vose Corbin is the daughter of a wealthy Bridgeport family.

Custody of little Gail is still being sought through New York's higher courts. Her mother won a Reno divorce decree on January 1, after declaring Vose had forced her to "submit to liberties" from his broker friends.

Three months later she married Ewart St. Aubyn Alleyne Corbin, handsome English doorman.

British Girl Praises Social Service Here

Americans are much farther ahead "in harnessing young women workers to tackle social problems," according to Miss Dorothy Neville-Rolfe, English social worker who today began a tour of inspection of Boston women's colleges and the Junior League.

Miss Neville-Rolfe, with Miss Margaret G. Godley, both graduates of Oxford University, are the founders of the London House of Citizenship, and have attracted attention through the British Empire in their campaign to "make women think."

"We don't care what side of a question a woman takes," Miss Neville-Rolfe said, "as long as she considers it. I don't think either America or England can be said to be farther ahead in teaching young ladies to tackle the problems of life.

"But over here you are much better organized. You know what to do. It is the duty of every young woman to study the problems of her government."

The two English girls were to visit Wellesley this morning, then to be guests of honor at a Junior League luncheon in Boston, then to go to Radcliffe and Simmons.

Blindness or Death? They Must Answer Soon

By CHARLES A. HUNT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, May 6 (INS)—With Science their only hope, two frantic parents pondered today the staggering question of whether their five-week-old baby daughter should be allowed to die or be blind the rest of her days.

The baby is suffering from a malignant tumor in back of the eyes. Leading specialists believe only eight weeks of life remain for the infant if no operation is performed. At the same time the only way of checking the spread of the growth is by removing the eyes.

The full weight of the terrifying alternative—whether to inflict blindness upon the child or permit it to die—weighed upon the hearts of its parents, Dr. Herman Colan, 30, Chicago dentist, and his wife, Estelle, 23.

Hand in hand, the distraught Colans walked today through their Gethsemane. Closeted in their apartment, they searched their souls for an answer to their frightful problem.

Dr. Colan emerged briefly to say, distractedly:

"We have reached no decision. We don't know what to do. My wife is hysterical. I have been told that three or four days more won't make any difference one way or the other. I shall seek further medical advice. I dread that some day my baby may be left in the hands of strangers, alone, and sightless."

Only One Glimmer of Hope

There was one faint glimmer of hope, a chance that removal of one eye might be sufficient.

In the words of Dr. Cassius C. Rogers, brain specialist:

"If an operation is performed it will be necessary to take out one eye at a time. If the condition of the first substantiates the diagnosis, in all probability the other will have to be removed.

"The disease, called glioma, is a malignancy of the brain tissue, of which the optic nerve is a part. In some cases the condition has been checked through the removal of a single eye.

"I would advise that no operation be performed pending a positive diagnosis. Thereafter the choice between blindness or death for their daughter must be made by the parents."

The child was apparently healthy and normal at birth. She was christened Helaine Judith Colan and thrived after being returned home from the hospital.

Grandfather Discusses Tragedy

But last week Dr. Morris Hershman, the baby's maternal grandfather, noticed something peculiar about its eyes while standing beside the cradle.

Dr. Hershman revealed his discovery to the father, but withheld the information from Mrs. Colan, who is still recovering after the baby's birth.

Dr. Harry Gradle was called into consultation and expressed the opinion one eye might be removed and the other treated by X-ray before more drastic action was taken.

Dr. Robert H. Good concurred in the fateful diagnosis and added:

"The child hasn't one chance in a thousand to survive. It will die whether an operation is performed or not."

Seeking further advice, the distraught father and grandmother went to Dr. E. V. L. Brown, specialist. Dr. Brown weighed the evidence and said:

"The operation is vital. By all means operate in order that the child's life may be saved."

Sally's Serious Talk Delights Harvard

PICTURE ON PAGE 27.

Rounds of applause greeted her very serious lecture to some 1700 students at the annual Harvard freshman smoker.

Skipping lightly from subject to subject, she touched on world unrest and the struggle between American capital and labor before ending up with the admonition for her listeners to stand on their own feet.

She suggested that Harvard freshmen become modern Daniel Boones and carve for themselves an "intellectual frontier." She added there might be a good field for many of them in organized labor. She thought they might do a fine job in turning out professional labor racketeers and politicians and taking over the labor field for themselves.

After thanking the Harvard boys for recognizing her with her clothes on, she confessed she was very glad to speak at Harvard.

At one time she frightened her listeners with a forecast of times to come.

"You'll have a lovely time here for four years," she warned, "but then someone is going to stop keeping you. Drop that Harvard pose and start thinking."

Probers Demand Dies Bill Defeat

Brand Measure Bad, Dangerous

NEW YORK, May 5—Through the chairman of its committee for study of criminal alien activities, the American Immigration Conference Board today demanded the defeat of the Dies bill, which was passed last June by the House of Representatives and is now pending in the United States Senate.

The chairman of the committee for study of criminal alien activities is Percy C. Magnus, who is also president of the New York board of trade.

John Cecil is director of the committee.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The statement issued on behalf of the committee by Chairman Magnus said in part:

"Any attempt to weaken the safeguards restricting immigration should have the opposition of every American citizen.

"Between 11 and 13 million American citizens are now unemployed; 16 million others are employed part time; 15 million Americans are now on the payroll of or subsidized by the government, while four million American jobs are held by non-citizens.

"House Bill No. 6391, by Congressmen Martin Dies of Texas and Samuel Dickstein of New York, as amended by the United States Senate committee on immigration, known as the Dies bill, is a thoroughly dangerous and bad bill.

"It proposes to give to the secretary of labor discretionary power to condone illegal entry of aliens into the United States. The passage of this bill will be a potent agency for promoting entry into this country by aliens who sneak in by using methods of bribery, perjury and fraud.

CITES BILL JOKER

"The Dies bill does not rectify a single defect in the present deportation laws. The bill has a joker in it. It states that an alien criminal could be deported only for future offenses.

"The American people should stop this onslaught against their rights, as is now proposed in the so-called Dies deportation bill.

"The bill is sponsored by the Secretary of Labor, backed by powerful, well-financed pressure groups. The secretary has tried for four years to pass such a bill, during which time she has, as admitted recently in testimony before a congressional committee, allowed 5949 mandatorily deportable alien criminals and undesirables to remain in this country, free on bond.

"THIS OUTRAGE SHOULD BE STOPPED.

"EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD WRITE TO THEIR TWO UNITED STATES SENATORS TODAY AND PROTEST AGAINST PASSAGE OF THE DIES BILL."

Ann Marsters in Circus

Writer First to Play Part of Lady Clown

By ANN MARSTERS

For the first time in its history (as far as anyone knows) the circus had a lady clown.

She was a part of the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey show at the Boston Garden last night, and none of the customers seemed to know the difference. But I did—because I was the clown.

So now we shall tell you all about the process of becoming a clown in "The Greatest Show on Earth," and what it feels like to have a painted grin on your mouth and two big, black tears slanting down your cheeks.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Backstage, before the show began, there were any number of clowns wandering around, each with his individual makeup and absurd costume. There were midgets, too, with self-sufficient airs and solemn expressions on their little faces. Property men and scene shifters were lolling about, some sleeping soundly on the tops of trunks. A little pig was squealing away, and a row of bears were sniffing at their bars.

I was assigned to a "fellow clown," Lou Jacobs, who was to give me my costume and put on my makeup.

There are 150 clowns in the circus, but only about 10 of Lou Jacobs' type. He's a producer clown—which means that he creates various acts and comedy tricks for himself and other clowns.

After I'd put on my clown suit and covered my hair with a scull cap, I sat on a stray trunk and Lou went to work on my face. First he smeared me with chalk-white greasepaint, which gave me a macabre appearance, to say the least. Then the "art work" began.

DIAMOND EYEBROWS

I got a bright red nose, two black diamonds for eyebrows, an exaggerated cupid's bow for a mouth, and two wide black "laugh lines." The triangular tear-drops, I thought, were an inspiration—and I tried to think of a secret sorrow befitting a lady clown. I was beginning to look somewhat like pictures I have seen of the famous clown, "Polo." Several years ago, clowns frequently had their makeups patented, but the practice, I learned, has been discontinued.

While he worked, I asked Lou some questions, trying to gain a better understanding of clowns. But he was gently economical with his answers, and they went like this:

How long have you been a clown?

"All my life."

When did you begin?

"When I was a little boy—in Germany."

How long have you been with this circus?

"Fourteen years."

Do you like being a clown?

"Oh—sure."

CAN'T FIND A WIFE

What do you do when the circus isn't playing?

"Go to Florida to fish and hunt."

Are you married?

"No—can't find a wife."

What about all the pretty girls in the circus?

"They're all married."

It took Lou only about one-third as long to turn me into a clown as it takes to put on a Hollywood makeup—and the result was, I felt, much more effective. When you're a clown, you cease, in a way, to be a person. Your only sense of individuality is in the distinction of your own makeup from that of the other clowns. You are no more and no less than the thing children think of as a "circus clown." And it's your business to make the children laugh.

Lou Jacobs calmly hustled me into a baby carriage. (It was the carriage he uses for "Sweetpea" when he dresses up as "Popeye.") Then, with nary a word, he was wheeling me out onto the sawdust ring, to join the parade of circus folk.

Sweetpea's flimsy carriage creaked under me, and my mouth grinned and grinned. I expected the carriage to collapse at any moment—but that would only have made the children laugh harder. And I, being a clown wouldn't have minded a bit.

That, you see, is how you feel about things when you're a real circus clown.

W. R. Hearst's Aid to Riflemen Hailed at M. I. T. Celebration

Team, Individual Trophies Awarded

Recognition was accorded William Randolph Hearst on every side today for his encouragement and enthusiastic support of marksmanship, following presentation of Hearst trophies to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology rifle team.

The presentation was made at a dinner at Hotel Victoria, where the M. I. T. riflemen celebrated their attainment of second place in the national rifle championships held last March.

The noted publisher was highly praised by Col. Nathaniel Nash, Jr., M. N. G., who declared that few men in America have done more to promote marksmanship in the national service in colleges and among civilians. He cited many instances where Mr. Hearst's interest and support had been given to rifle teams.

John T. Lambert, representing the Boston Evening American, Boston Sunday Advertiser and Boston Daily Record, presented the awards —a beautiful silver-mounted trophy to the team and silver medals to the five individual members who took part in the national competition.

READS MESSAGE

Mr. Lambert spoke briefly, congratulating the team for its achievement in winning second place among senior units in the First Corps Area, and read a message from Mr. Hearst, stressing the importance of the competition. The message read:

"A nation like the United States, subjected to the envy and jealousy of a hostile and insufficiently civilized world, should be able to defend itself against some outbreak of this latent hostility into attack. A democratic nation does not want a large standing army, and the only effective alternative is a competent citizen soldiery.

"Military training for the young men of the nation in schools and colleges was favored by the founders of the republic, but unfortunately this plan is not in general operation. The next best plan for national defense is to instruct the youth of the land by other means, in the rudiments of military training.

"EFFICIENT SOLDIERY"

"The object of the annual rifle shoot is to make skillful marksmen of as many young Americans as possible, and so contribute in this important manner toward the defense of the country through an efficient citizen soldiery.

"The trophy is being awarded therefore not merely to the winners of an ordinary contest of skill, but to the young Americans who have most effectively cultivated their mental and physical gifts toward the possible defense of their country in time of danger.

"It is being presented not merely to good marksmen, but to good citizens, to the young men whose love of country leads them to prepare for patriotic duty.

"None of all the people in America wants war, but some have the vision to see that war may be forced upon us and the patriotism to prepare for that emergency."

Silver medals were presented by Mr. Lambert to the five team members in the order of their scoring. They were Harry K. Sedgwick of New Bedford, Valentine deOlloqui of Cleveland, O., Norman Davis of Cambridge, Phelps A. Walker of Winnetka, Ill., and Edward B. Myrick of Newtonville.

Graves' Arrest Denied by Court

A warrant for the arrest of Frederick H. Graves on charges of perjury and larceny of $30,000, applied for by Attorney Wendell P. Murray, counsel for former Governor James M. Curley, was refused today in municipal court by Judge Charles L. Carr.

Graves was the key witness in the City of Boston's suit against Curley and Dr. Joseph Santosuosso, in which Judge Frederick W. Fosdick ordered Curley and Santosuosso to return to the city $50,000 allegedly gained in settlement of a suit against the city while Curley was mayor.

Judge Carr commented that Judge Fosdick or the district attorney had authority and "ample power" to proceed against Graves.

New Bedford Pact Hailed

NEW BEDFORD, May 6—Hailed as a "Magna Charta of industrial self-government," a labor relations contract outlawing strikes and substituting compulsory arbitration and signed by the New Bedford Textile Council and the New Bedford Manufacturers' Association, went into effect here today.

The contract sets up machinery for investigation, arbitration and enforcement of decisions in labor troubles. William E. G. Batty, secretary of the council, said "not another city of our size in the nation can boast of anything comparable."

Union heads said the agreement provides for the same wage flat adopted last January.

Nov. 11 as Holiday Up to Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Armistice Day, November 11, would become a legal holiday under legislation passed by the Senate today and sent on to the President.

Senator McAdoo (D.) of California, obtained Senate action on the measure previously approved by the House.

Fishing Row

Over Sunday Edict

SPRINGFIELD, Vt., May 6—With the Rev. Lawrence Larrowe's Sabbath trout fishing expedition a topic of fierce controversy in this section, the board of trustees of the Methodist Church today announced a public meeting will be held Sunday to decide whether it is Christian to fish on the Lord's Day.

Rev. Mr. Larrowe refused to back down on his trout-fishing stand, declaring he was more convinced than ever "it was a Christian Sunday."

Wife's Pledge Appears Vain

Arthur Philips, 29, of Timmonsville, S. C., whose wife once promised Boston police he would earn an "honest living," was said by officials today to be wanted in 20 cities following his arrest here for passing a bad check.

Detectives William J. Crowley, Stanley Slack and Joseph Decker arrested Philips in a downtown hotel after he allegedly had cashed a $45 check on a Hartford bank.

Records showed that Philips' wife, daughter of a minister, begged Boston authorities two years ago to show him mercy by removing a complaint against him. He was then serving a five-year sentence in Oklahoma State Prison.

Revere Racketeers on Run

Revere racketeers and their followers were reported running for cover today as Attorney-General Paul A. Dever prepared to seek indictments against 54 persons of that city.

The long-planned Revere "purge" will go before a special grand jury on May 25 when evidence amassed in months of investigation of murder and corruption will be presented.

Two of those against whom indictments will be asked are dead men. They are Louis Gaeta and David J. "Beano" Breen, slain racketeers.

Sensational evidence linking the murdered men with high Revere officials and policemen will be offered the jury. A Fitchburg "business man," alleged to have given backing to Revere gambling ventures, and the son of a respected Revere business man are included among those against whom indictments will be asked.

The Revere police department was expected to be subjected to searching scrutiny with resignations probable before the special grand jury even completes its findings. It was learned that Dever will seek to renovate the police department as well as strike hard at certain city officials.

Evidence will be presented by Assistant Attorney General Garrett H. Byrne, a member of the staff of District Attorney William J. Foley, and Assistant Attorney General Maurice Goldman.

Patrol Lobster Grounds in 'War'

Boston harbor police today began an intensive patrol of lobster and crab grounds in an effort to prevent a threatened war between established fishing companies and independent "interlopers."

The companies' lobster and crab nets and traps, valued at thousands of dollars, have been destroyed by "raiders," it was reported to police yesterday.

PEABODY MEN UNINJURED IN FALL

Roy Felt, 57, and Roger, 26, his son, both of Peabody, were reported uninjured today following their 30-foot tumble from a staging on the house they were shingling in Broad street, Peabody.

Britain, France to Warn Hitler

PARIS, May 6 (AP)—France and Great Britain, fearful of a German-Italian deal to give Adolf Hitler a free hand in Czechoslovakia, have decided on an immediate joint appeal to Praha and a warning to Berlin, French foreign office sources said today.

These sources asserted London [illegible] Czechoslovakia to make utmost concessions to her Nazi minority [illegible] committing any "action of violence" against the central European republic.

'I Shall Not Run in 1940'

PARIS, May 6 (INS)—"I shall not run in 1940."

That was what President Roosevelt told United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt recently at Warm Springs, Ga., the newspaper Paris Soir reported today.

The paper stated that Bullitt related the President told him, while they were fishing together:

"You can be sure that I shall not run in in 1940. The first thing I will do upon leaving the White House will be to take a boat for Paris, which I desire to see again."

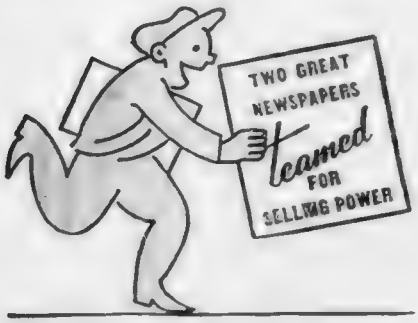
TWIN POWERED for Advertising Performance

HERE'S WHAT YOU'VE BEEN WAITING FOR



It's time, right now, to tune up for the take-off.—time to make a final check-up and be sure your selling program is hitting to perfection.

You need volume altitude for profitable business operations. You need the twin power of Daily Record-Evening American advertising to get you that volume. For twin power, by experience, does a better job.

Here are two selling forces, each with a definite performance of its own, working together as one, all-day advertising buy, — reaching people whenever they are planning to purchase.

Make the Daily Record-Evening American advertising the backbone of your selling and merchandising program.

Here is your best bet for sales success! Here is effective, well distributed coverage of mass and class buyers! Here is the pulling power of "around-the-clock" circulation! Here is economy that lowers selling costs!

Concentrate in the Daily Record-Evening American. Employ the selling power of this potent advertising force in building sales volume to a new all-time high.

USE THE COMBINATION!

DUAL DRIVE for Selling Results

HERE'S WHAT YOU'VE BEEN WAITING FOR

Your advertising has a heavy load to carry. Whether the going is smooth or rough, you need maximum pulling power for sales volume!

Daily Record-Evening American advertising has the capacity you need to do a selling job! Dual pulling power that moves merchandise! The flexibility of all-day circulation that reaches people whenever they are making plans to buy! Efficient, well distributed coverage of mass and class buyers! Economy for low cost sales results!

Concentrate your advertising in the Daily Record-Evening American. Join those merchants who see, in the Daily Record-Evening American, the selling vehicle best equipped to keep their merchandise moving.—who use the Daily Record-Evening American because it brings results!

Here is your answer to making sales quotas! Here is a dual selling force,—offering performance,—working with "around-the-clock" efficiency, — working night and day to bring you business at a profit!

USE THE COMBINATION!

DAILY RECORD EVENING AMERICAN

and the Greatest selling job in New England's history!

Here are the "wheels of progress" that will turn any and every type of merchandise from your shelves! Here are the Daily Record and Evening American, now in combination, giving you the greatest circulation in the annals of New England! Here is coverage of Boston in the morning and in the evening—through the entire day! Here is the morning paper and the evening paper of the smart young moderns, who eat, dress, drive cars, play golf, take in the shows, refrigerate by electricity, enjoy radios, furnish their homes, and raise children! Here is the Record and the American in a unit!

Now tell a story that has an all-day wallop—reaching readers that buy, and buyers that read, in one operation—at one small cost—the smallest cost per reader ever offered!

porary" employes on the compensation commission's payrolls, carried over from the previous administration, would have only 10 more days to stay.

McCartin had a qualified man picked for the job of supervisor of statistics and research for the commission, Delaney, however, he testified, "urged and obtained the appointment of Kenneth Minnehan—undoubtedly qualified, McCartin said, but a leading Hurley worker in Cambridge."

CITES STATE LAW

Throughout McCartin's testimony Attorney Warren Patten, counsel for the legislative investigating committee, emphasized the state laws which prohibit partisan appointments in the Unemployment Compensation Commission and require that all appointments be made subject to civil service rules.

Arthur S. Pegnam of West Newton also acted for the committee.

Deputy commissioner testified that an estimated 700 of the commission's 1500 employes still are noncivil service.

McCartin testified that Delaney was introduced to him as a representative of the incoming governor "urged" by a man named Michael Kelcher.

"HOW MANY JOBS?"

A reluctant witness, McCartin testified that the "representative of the incoming governor wanted to know what per cent would be required."

"You mean he was down there looking for jobs?" Attorney Warren Patten, counsel for the legislative committee, asked.

Patten threw a memorandum at him, subpoenaed from the unemployment commission's records to refresh your memory, Mr. Cartin finally admitted that the representative of the incoming governor was.

"Interested in finding out how many jobs would be available."

Concerning Mahoney, McCartin explained in his testimony that he had requested Gov. Hurley upon the latter's taking office to extend the tenure of temporary employes then on the payroll 60 days.

WENT WITH FUCHS

He went to the governor's office with Judge Emil Fuchs, former president of the Boston Braves and at that time chairman of the unemployment commission, he said. He went there by appointment at Mahoney's request.

They were told by Mahoney Mc-Cartin testified that the Governor had refused the request for a 60-day extension and that the "temporary" workers would be kept only 10 more days.

As to Minnehan's appointment McCartin was questioned by Patten.

"Didn't you have someone else in mind?" Patten asked.

"Yes," McCartin replied.

"But you had to take Minnehan?"

POLITICAL INFLUENCE?

"Well," McCartin squirmed, "they both were qualified men. Mr. Minnehan is a Boston College, Harvard Business School graduate."

"But as it turned out," Patten insisted, "the man who got the job had political influence didn't he?"

"Well, yes, McCartin admitted, he did."

"As a matter of fact, thundered Patten, 'Mr. Delaney insisted Minnehan be appointed didn't he?'"

"He urged it upon me," McCartin replied.

Chairman of the legislative committee is Senator Angier Goodman of Melrose. Other members are Senator Eugene Glynn of Somerville and Representatives Philip G. Bowker, Everett; Christian Herter, Jr., Paul Pillsbury, Edward F. Aspell, Roxbury; Joseph N. Foster, North Attleboro, and William F. Kilpatrick, Hingham.

Among the spectators were Judge Emil Fuchs, member of the unemployment commission formerly president of the Boston Braves and Miss Mary [illegible] civil service leader.

Austen Lake Says

Kentucky Derby Day: or Hallelujah to Hokum

IT'S SPRINGTIME IN HORSE-HEAVEN. Throughout the Blue Grass regions of Kentucky soft winds are riffling the seed-pods in the meadows. Long and lush grass it is, where patrician steeds stand hock-high and lift necks that are arched with aristocracy to watch the gentry roll toward Louisville. For tomorrow is Derby Day in a land that is sweet with vernal opiates. The sun is like warm honey.

AUSTEN LAKE

It's Springtime in Kentucky and the wayside orchards are in flower, bride-crowned trees awaiting wedding with summer. Negro children stop play in their dooryards—kinky tots in frayed calico, who look with liquid-eyed wonder at the passing parade. The plowman turns furrows of moist brown earth, the clouds are blobs of cotton in the sky, a bird balances on a bush. The waiting world cups its ear toward Churchill Downs.

At Louisville [illegible] with hunting, stalking [illegible] hearts, funds have [illegible] that every body is [illegible] happy. But at Churchill Downs [illegible] Spring is not just a season over the green-carpeted [illegible] Spring is a condition with energy [illegible] a quickening. That is where the support [illegible] for [illegible] begins.

Rampant Royalty

YES! A STOUT ODOR OF SUSPICION permeates the horse barns and only by written consent from Col. Mathew McGillicuddy Winn, the rubicund julep-mixer and angel of the track, may one pass the skirmish line and wander along the cindered alleys between the quarantined stalls. Even then only by added endorsement of the fat and florid guard captain.

Always eyes watch you from under hat brims, trigger-fingers [illegible] words, harsh as a pistol shot, warn you if you move within a prescribed shucking distance of the imperial quadrupeds. The guard, of course, is posted against poisoners, mud-slingers and losers who may want to insert a note of sordid commercialism into this animal Eden. The difference, one gathers, is that Man is not always dealt with the simple expedience of a horse.

[illegible]

THE [illegible] POPULATION AT CHURCHILL [illegible] has been excited from [illegible] Nashville, Tenn., Narragansett and Pimlico. [illegible] Derby [illegible] water that parched [illegible]

[illegible]

Jockeys [illegible] fighting fit both for [illegible] Next best to [illegible] riding to horse scholars is Derby. And only [illegible] Churchill Downs after a rain shower will have better seen the real thing in nature's chocolate-rum-birch pudding. A rain that runs during the night rests on the track in a thick, gooey sheet. Due to sufficient drainage and a hard pan bottom the moisture just has to sit [illegible] to the heat. Which is why of all our American tracks Churchill Downs runs first as Mudder's Delight.

Night Scene at Louisville

There are the Louisville well-bowlers who make the most a par-spotting score by city scenes in the central hotel courts. The [illegible] and the Brown Hotel are ideal for window-seeking and [illegible] the [illegible] to the repetitious crash of bottles or anything [illegible] retrieval to hasten over the rail. And the Derby tourists continue until the pearl-pinks of morning flash the skies. They are eyes red-rimmed and [illegible] at one date to the race track to stand on each other's toetaps and witness the cataclysmic moment when history is written.

Bull Lea Runyon's Choice

By DAMON RUNYON

LOUISVILLE May 6 (AP) Oh the moon shines bright on you red Kentucky home all right, but for the home of Bull Lea you pick only haven't a spare room to rent none.

The town is chuck-a-block with folks who have come from far and near to see tomorrow's 64th running of the Kentucky Derby, most picturesque and romantic of all the American turf events.

Out of the best bred string of three year olds that we have ever in many a year of journeying to Kentucky Derbies we will go to the post.

The favorite is reckoned by the experts of the pace to be Odds. Of a lot of the probables are had a dozen horses entered so close together that the best guess among them is 5 to 1.

STAGEHAND OUT

EARL SANDE

For [illegible] who a sudden withdrawal of the horse created the whole complexion of the race and moved the bookies to [illegible] Fox as the probable winner. Fox is the property of Sam [illegible]

Colonel Howard had been depending on Stagehand to [illegible] over a short route.

BULL LEA, 7 TO 1

Wilson duPont's Dauber is quoted at only 5 to 1. This appears the probability of a [illegible] Dauber isn't liked.

Fighting Fox is said to be fast on an offtrack but Dauber is a mud runner, for [illegible] the track is [illegible]

New Hall Boys [illegible] race for a distance toward a mile and a quarter. Had Bull Lea been with Bull Lea over a mile which could not [illegible] the cows come home and Bull Lea may [illegible] her.

He is quoted at 3 to 1 and that is the horse on which your correspondent will stick or win.

We used Bull Lea at Saratoga August and we like him at Louisville on May 7 especially now that Stagehand with his capacity for doing things the [illegible] is out.

Odds Shift

Fighting Fox, 5-2

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6 (AP) The withdrawal of Stagehand from the Kentucky Derby has sent Fighting Fox into the favorite's position over Paul Lea the heavily backed second choice and shifted the odds on the eight other probable starters.

Following is the probable starting field for tomorrow's classic with owners, jockeys and probable odds:

Horse	Owner	Jockey	Odds
Fighting Fox, W	Woodward	Stout	5-2
Bull Lea, W	Wright	Anderson	7-1
Laurie H	Woolf	Arcaro	8-1
Menow H J	Headley	Workman	8-1
The Chief, Sr	Howard	Westrope	8-1
Dauber, W	Dupont, Jr	Peters	10-1
Can't Wait, M	Setzrick	Brinkel	15-1
Photo, Mrs W	Rowe	Pagni	40-1
Co Sport, Bert	Friend	Dotter	50-1

BOND'S PARADE of MAY MONEY-SAVERS

It starts today!

Suits like these are usually tagged $32.50

You'll see them in the honor-spot of this procession of values—where they'll steal the show. MacKenzie Worsteds, Sedan Shetlands, Henley Herringbones—front rank stalwarts, every one. They'll stand up under a withering fire of hard wear, without a lot of pressing. All wool construction plus plenty of hand needlework does the trick. Yours at a $7.50 saving—while this Parade is on!

$25 with two trousers

Rochester quality at a saving of $8.00

An eye-compelling turnout from our own workrooms in America's fashion center. Row upon row of firm worsteds, dignified conservatives, jaunty sportsters. They rate a salute on two important counts—they're hard to wrinkle, they never acquire a "shine." Had we bought them in the open market, they'd be tagged at $38. The straight line from our own factory to you puts them in this Parade at

Mountain Climb At Suffolk | Miles of Stairs For Officials

By JACK CONWAY

TOM THORP, who used to be a ten-second dash man when at Columbia, should be able to win honors as a super-mountain climber when he completes his duties as presiding steward at Suffolk Downs. Members of the press should at least be able to scramble up Mount Washington or Pike's Peak without even puffing.

Hoist and a Slide Might Help

In the event of a foul claim there will, of course, be some delay while the stewards come down from their stand to talk with the jockeys. The official sign will not go up on the "tote" board until the stewards have made their decision on the foul claim.

DEAN DEAL STANDS

CHICAGO, May 6.—It's a cinch that Dizzy Dean and Tots Quigley will be with the Cubs next season. It was announced today that Phil Wrigley, president of the Cubs, and Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, had completed baseball plans. If Dizzy Dean and Tots Quigley don't join the Cubs, Wrigley said, they will be traded to other clubs.

Life Ban Spurred End of Battery Evil

Jockey Snider Caught in Act

By DAVE WILSON

When the federal government, with the aid of the state racing commissions, began their drive on the use of dope in horse racing, those shyster horsemen who are always doing a little sharpshooting turned from the use of stimulants to the use of a battery.

When stung with the battery, which is a couple of dry cells no bigger than a match box, the horse nearly goes crazy.

His natural instinct is to run away from what is stinging him; hence the effectiveness of a battery in urging a horse to greater efforts.

The racing officials were not long in catching up with the jockeys who were using batteries and, after several had been ruled off the turf for life, the practice ceased.

Tom Thorp

The stewards, including Tom Thorp, noted that Jockey Skinny Snider threw something away as his mount rounded the clubhouse turn after winning a race.

JOCKEY SET DOWN

They watched closely and saw a man duck under the fence and pick up the object. It so happened that a racing commission inspector was near at hand and had observed what had taken place.

He made an attempt to arrest the jockey's aide. The man, however, slung him with the battery and got away. But Snider was set down for life for using the machine on the horse.

Racing Secretary Ben Holmes of Agua Caliente, who formerly held the same position at Suffolk Downs, included in his repertoire of after dinner stories about the steward who shook hands with the jockey and was electrocuted.

That story, of course, was pure hyperbole, but served to illustrate how common the practice had become before steps were taken to combat it.

ABOUT BLINKERS

Another method by which the unscrupulous persons cheat with their horses is in the changing of equipment, particularly blinkers. Around the race track blinkers are called the "Rogue's Badge." Certain horses run better with them, others without them.

When a stable had a horse with which they wanted to win a bet they would put him minus the Rogue's Badge for several races. When the right spot came up the blinkers would be put on him, and down he would come with the payoff in telephone numbers.

That is almost impossible nowadays because all equipment on each horse is carefully recorded, and owners are not allowed to make any changes without the approval of the stewards.

Much the same thing occurred in the use of spurs until the tracks began to make rules, as Suffolk Downs did recently, that the use of dull spurs only was permitted on older horses upon receiving permission of the stewards.

Racing authorities long ago realized that if the sport is to remain popular every protection must be given the bettor. Theirs is a job in which they cannot relax their vigilance for one moment.

There will be another article by Dave Wilson on the "Inside Story of Racing" in tomorrow's Boston Evening American.

Brookline Boy

Norton Trains Whitney Stable Here

By DAVE WILSON

W. J. "Billy" Norton, a Brookline product, is training the John Hay Whitney horses racing at Suffolk Downs. Norton, who received his first schooling in horsemanship from the late Mike Murphy at the Weld Stock Farm in West Roxbury, is one of the most capable horsemen turned out in Massachusetts.

Norton is equally at home driving a four-in-hand, six, riding a saddle horse, schooling a jumper or training a race horse.

John H. Whitney

As a matter of fact, he still holds the high jump record at the Commonwealth Armory, having jumped a horse named Blightly over seven feet in the high jump event there back about 1923.

Norton's first training job was with C. V. B. Cushman of Connecticut. From that job he went to the Whitney establishment as second trainer to "Big Jim" Healy.

Norton reports that Whitney has some good two-year-old stock coming to the races this year, which he has hopes will put the pink, black and white-striped silks out front again.

* * *

* * *

Take it from me, Ruperto Donoso is a pretty fair rider. Ruperto booted home Gold Thorn in good style. The New England turf writers have a new button this year, and the guard on the press gate at the Downs remarked the other day after four or five of the writing gentry had passed by him in succession, "Gee, the Shriners are turning out in great style today."

Vines Again Bows To British Star

NEWARK, N. J., May 6 (AP)—Fred Perry of England took his third straight victory over Ellsworth Vines of California in a professional tennis exhibition match. The scores were 6—2, 6—4.

Their cross-country series now stands 38 to Vines and 31 for Perry.

Celebrities Rally to Aid Von Cramm

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6 (AP)—A group of California sportsmen, including world amateur tennis champ Don Budge and Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yanks, today demanded immediate release of Baron Gottfried von Cramm, Germany's No. 1 net star, from a Nazi concentration camp.

Von Cramm was arrested several weeks ago, supposed on a morals charge, but the accusation has not been fully explained.

The sportsmen in a letter criticized the "dark secrecy" of Nazi officials and asserted the charges were "mere subterfuges."

Others who signed the letter include Bill Johnston, the Sidney Woods, Jr., and Sr., and Bill Dorg, all well-known tennis players, and William Fuller, tennis coach for Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs.

DERBY WEATHER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6 (INS)—Generally fair today and Saturday, except probably local showers Friday night. Cooler Saturday.

That was the forecast for the scene of tomorrow's annual running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

M'Phail Restores Peace to Dodgers

PITTSBURGH, May 6 (AP)—Never a dull moment with the Dodgers, tra-la, tra-la!

Take La Affaire Luke Hamlin, whose removal as pitcher while he was leading the Pirates in their second game caused such an upheaval among the Brooklyns that General Manager Larry MacPhail flew over from New York to restore peace and quiet. Here are the minutes:

1:15 to John Anthony McDonald, traveling secretary: "Say McDonald, this is MacPhail. The papers here in New York say Hamlin sassed Burleigh Grimes yesterday. We can't have that. Get Luke on the phone so I can talk to him."

1:30 to "Hot Potato" Hamlin: "Did you tell any reporters that there wasn't any reason in the world for yanking me and don't you think I didn't say something to the manager?"

"Well, Mr. MacPhail, I was damned mad and I said something but I don't think it was just that. Maybe I said I could have won."

"Now son, I've got a dinner engagement tonight and the theater afterward, but I'm going to come out there to see you. We can't have that. You just wait around the hotel till I get there."

LAYS DOWN LAW

3:15—The Dodgers proceed to lose to the Pirates, 4 to 2.

7:25—MacPhail starts series of conferences.

8:30—Newspapermen in chorus: "We've got you cornered now Mr. Leland Stanford MacPhail. What's going on here?"

"Well you guys, sometimes I think Terry was right."

"I came out here to tell these players who is boss of this club. If the stories I read are true, this is the lousiest and rankest piece of insubordination on the part of any major league player since I've been in baseball.

"Now I'm going in to tell these players Grimes is manager and I can find 23 players who will want to play for him if they don't.

"I didn't appoint Grimes manager but he was manager when I came to Brooklyn and he's going to have a fine chance for his White alley—and that means the whole season. I never have had two managers in one season and I'm not going to have now."

10:30—MacPhail and players stamp out of a club meeting just in time to catch their trains—Hamlin and Dodgers for Cincinnati; MacPhail for New York.

Smoother, Too, Insists Man Who Caught Him

By BOB CONSIDINE

International News Service Staff Writer

"Sure, this kid Feller's a good pitcher," allowed weather-beaten Gabby Street, looking down over the top of his glasses. "But when they try to say he's faster than Johnson was—like George Moriarty says—I gotta laugh."

Mr. Street is more than a casual commentator on the topic.

He caught Johnson during Walter's first five years in the league, and the famous old battery was renewed again in 1924, in an exhibition game at Coffeyville, Kan.

In addition, Mr. Street is the manager of the St. Louis Browns, the team which Feller first dug his spurs in, and the team which Robert shut out with one hit at the start of th' season.

The Browns are here to play the Red Sox today and tomorrow.

PERFECT DELIVERY

"Listen," said Gab, "there never was a pitcher like Walter. There can't be another one. For one thing they don't even build men like that any more.

"Say, he could scratch his knee with his right hand, without stooping, and he was born with the kind of delivery that gives a man 20 years or more of top ability.

"He was practically as fast in 1924, in that exhibition game, as he was back in 1907.

"He didn't get no sore arms," Gab asserted, stressing the "he" a little. "He had a better wrist than any pitcher I ever saw, and that long smooth motion . . . goldy, what I could do with a fellow like that today.

"That's why Feller isn't so good, or won't last so long—that motion. It's not smooth enough. That's why he has his stuff one day, and hasn't got it the next. Johnson just didn't have bad days.

But Feller has a more versatile delivery.

"Mebbe," Gabby admitted, "but don't get the idea that Johnson didn't have nothing but a hard straight one. His straight one had a bend in it. See what I mean?

"The way he let it come off his hand it bent in there, toward the right.

"You should have seen him when he'd bear down on Cobb. He didn't like Ty. Phew! How that ball would come in there.

"Naw, nobody will ever tell me a fellow can throw a baseball harder than Johnson. I know," the veteran said.

Haney Says U. S. Shell Game Big Worry Now

By LEWIS HANEY
(Professor of Economics, New York University)

NEW YORK, May 6—The president of a "First Voters League" in New York has just written a letter to President Roosevelt in which he protests against "pump priming" as laying an intolerable burden on the next generation. He urges that American youth do not want to have more federal debt piled up for them to pay in years to come.

The answer to this argument is found in the news of the same day. It is the renewed devaluation of the French franc. The answer is that the present administration has no intention of paying its debts. They never will be paid.

The youth of the land are not being made the goat; all of us are.

The fear that debts will burden the next generation is based upon standards of honesty and standards of money which are no part of the New Deal. You see, private debts do have to be paid. That is a part of the system of private enterprise.

But our government has been seized by men who think that such standards are horse-and-buggy stuff, like the Supreme Court. They hold that public debts do not have to be paid.

* * *

The whole course of events in France shows how the thing works. There the "popular front" has been much the same thing as the New Deal, and the no-row-and-spend policy has been carried to the limit.

The result has been one public bankruptcy proceeding after another. Each time the franc has been marked down, until now its value is only about 2.8 cents.

This means that the French new-deal government agrees to settle its debts at a rate equal to about 40 cents on the dollar.

* * *

In America, we are well "on the way!"

The same men who seized our gold, and repudiated our gold bonds, have already "devalued" our dollars to 59 cents. That means that they repudiated 41 per cent of the then-existing debt. (They offer to settle at only 59 cents on the dollar.)

Now they are starting a new spending campaign—four and a half billion dollars this time!

My advice to the youth of this country is not to worry about the debts of tomorrow, but the shell game of today.

Chemicals Good Trade Barometer

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

The trend of industrial chemical sales not only flattened out late in the first quarter but has since turned up somewhat, according to latest surveys of the industry. Because chemicals are a representative line that reflects, in a usually honest manner, what is happening generally. This latest development is worthy of close attention.

If the industry can continue to gain over coming months many observers will think its performance is truly indicative of a real turn for the better.

There is nothing mysterious about such a thought when one stops to think that chemical companies are almost wholly dependent on other industries for their volume. Consequently if they are doing better so are their customers.

BUSINESS INDEX

The business index which we follow continues to lose ground. The latest figures available show contra-seasonal declines in electric power production, auto output and carloadings. Building contracts also declined despite widespread expectations of a rain, and steel ingot output slipped further. We can only say that the time has not yet arrived when it would be either safe or wise to make a forecast of a turn.

Notebook: Greyhound Corp.'s gross is running ahead of last year, but sharply increased depreciation charges are said to be responsible for reduced net income . . . Full year results estimated at above a dollar a share are considered possible, but a bit on the high side . . . At current operating rate Aluminum Corp. of America can be expected to show a loss of $5 per share, we are told.

MISSED OPPORTUNITY

So far this week the bull crowd has missed at least one good opportunity to prove its case to doubting traders and investors. With the list rolling toward higher prices they either could not or failed to supply enough buying power to keep it moving higher.

Something missed fire along the line and we think that, despite boasts prices were ignoring bad news, the reason was and is, the public will not come in until there are positive reasons for buying.

Irene's Bob Wins 1st

'And I'll Buy You a New Gold Collar'

Favorite Pays $7.20 To Backers

SUFFOLK DOWNS, May 6—Before 10,000 chilled spectators, Danny Driscoll of Salem, Mass., brought home his first winner of the New England racing season when he came home with Irene's Bob in the first race of the afternoon.

Never far from the early pace, Irene's Bob rushed ahead of the leaders entering the stretch and held away to the end, winning by a length over John Werring.

The winner, which was the betting favorite, paid $7.20 straight, while John Werring rewarded his backers with $9.20 for place. Vitox returned a nice show price of $7.80.

Kaplan Hunts Big Ring Game

Mike Kaplan, Dorchester battler who has grown into a full fledged welterweight after going undefeated in 23 professional starts, will be matched with either Ralph Zanelli of Providence or George Martin of the South End in the next big boxing tournament at the Boston Garden.

It was learned early today that Rip Valenti, matchmaker of the Goodwin A. C., has closed with Kaplan to meet either Zanelli or Martin.

Zanelli is gunning for another return bout with Martin following his spectacular k.o. of Freddy Camuso recently, but Valenti said neither he nor Martin will get a shot in the Boston Garden until they consider Kaplan.

Feller to Hurl Here Sunday

General Manager Eddie Collins of the Red Sox announced today he had received word from Manager Oscar Vitt of Cleveland that Bob Feller, 20-year-old strikeout king, would pitch against the Cronimmen in the opener of a three-game series at Fenway Park on Sunday.

(Boston Evening American Photo)

MIKE KAPLAN, whose 10-round victory over Lew Raymond has put him on the edge of the big money. The Roxbury battler tells his favorite canine what he's going to do when he gets it.

Welcome Back, Buck.—Buck Newsom, 1937 Red Sox pitcher, buys a Boston American to read the up-to-the-minute news on baseball upon his arrival in town with the Browns. Newsom has won three games and lost none this season. He's scheduled to work this afternoon against his old mates at the Fenway.
